

Name of the educational institution	Legal Entity of Public Law - Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University
Name of the educational programme	Slavic Philology / Slavic Philology
Qualification to be awarded	Bachelor of Arts in Slavic Philology
Programme head(s)	Marine Aroshidze, Professor - marina.aroshidze@bsu.edu.ge Ketevan Svanidze, Associate Professor - ketevan.svanidze@bsu.edu.ge
Programme structure / ECTS volume, curriculum (see Annex No. 1)	180 ECTS
Language of instruction	Georgian language
Admission prerequisites for the educational programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Unified National Examinations; ✓ Enrolment through mobility; ✓ Admission without Unified National Examinations, according to the procedure established by legislation.
Aim of the educational programme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ To provide students with basic philological knowledge, introduce methodological approaches of comparative and typological philological research, and familiarize them with the importance of the Slavic world in modern integration processes; ✓ To provide broad knowledge in the selected field of Slavic Philology (Russian language, literature and culture; Polish language, literature and culture / Ukrainian language, literature and culture); ✓ To develop the ability of philological analysis and critical evaluation, the ability to analyze literary and other types of texts, reasoned argumentation, and the ability to adapt and use acquired knowledge in a changing environment; ✓ To develop students' written and oral communication skills (first Slavic language - B2 level; second Slavic language - B1 level; English language), basic translation skills, and skills for successful intercultural dialogue/polylogue; ✓ In accordance with the mission of the University and the interests of employers, to prepare a highly qualified and competitive philologist-Slavist with competencies corresponding to modern requirements, who will be a free individual with high civic awareness, academic integrity, humanism, democratic values and principles.
Learning outcomes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Has broad knowledge of Slavic Philology; formulates and explains concepts related to important philological theories and describes the main issues of Slavic Philology; ✓ Reviews the features of all levels of the selected Slavic language system, the basic concepts of literary theory, the specificity of genres, and the main aspects of culture; understands the importance of the humanities and of effective intercultural communication (oral and written) in global integration processes; ✓ Uses the languages of specialization in written and oral communication (first Slavic language - B2 level; second Slavic language - B1 level) and English in professional activity and in the public sphere; ✓ Uses observation and analytical skills in professional activity; can independently apply the knowledge acquired in Slavic Philology in professional activity through the latest methodological approaches and can adapt to a changing professional environment; ✓ Identifies and distinguishes similarities and differences between various cultures and uses different methods of intercultural communication; ✓ Uses general skills necessary for socialization, including skills for working with texts, perceiving textual information and presenting it concisely, interpreting it, presenting one's own view on problematic issues through reasoned argumentation, and drawing well-founded conclusions; uses modern information technologies to obtain and process information; ✓ Carries out a research or applied work in Slavic Philology in accordance with predetermined instructions, participates in discussions on Georgian and Slavic linguocultural issues, and communicates argumentatively with the professional community in native and foreign languages; ✓ Recognizes and observes the principles of professional ethics and academic integrity; respects the high ideals of humanism, democracy, national and universal values, Georgian and other cultural heritage and values; ✓ Takes care of personal academic and professional development and demonstrates self-assessment and independent learning skills for deepening/improving acquired knowledge, as well as time-management skills;

✓ Successfully applies the qualities of a multicultural personality in professional and public activities, demonstrates the ability to organize time and work in familiar and unfamiliar environments, and shows high civic awareness and tolerance.