Dear Colleagues and Partners,

The Center for Economic Research and Graduate Education – Economics Institute (CERGE-EI) located in Prague, Czech Republic, invites students to apply for the PhD in Economics, Master in Economic Research and Master in Applied Economics programs.

Please find enclosed our graduate programs' posters. We would very much appreciate if you could distribute them among your students, so they could learn more about us. We believe that CERGE-EI represents an attractive and valuable educational option for your students, especially those who consider studies abroad.

The application deadline for all programs is on March 31 (+ MAE early bird deadline is November 31).

The PhD in Economics is a US-style program offering rigorous graduate education in Economics at a prestigious international institution. The graduates pursue academic careers in respected university departments around the world, or enter high level positions in international organizations, central banks, government ministries, or in private sector organizations. There are no tuition fees and students receive monthly stipends. We also offer First-Year Excellence Fellowship for the 1-3 best candidates applying to the program.

MA in Economic Research consists of two years of coursework that equips students with the systematic knowledge of economic theory and empirical research techniques, and aims to prepare students for further postgraduate education and independent research. Students have the opportunity to simultaneously enrol into the US-type MA/PhD track and enjoy the benefits offered by the PhD program, such as the stipends. Successful graduates can automatically continue in independent research within the PhD in Economics program.

The MA in Applied Economics is a one-year, tuition-based US program in English with focus on data science. During one intensive year, students obtain solid background in methods for analysis and interpretation of data in different economic fields which they immediately apply in the real-world cases from business and public sphere. Hard skills training is accompanied by tailored personal development program that includes mentoring, coaching and career services.

Please find more details about our graduate programs on our website, or feel free to contact us at phd@cerge-ei.cz, maer@cerge-ei.cz and mae@cerge-ei.cz for further information.

Thank you for your cooperation.
